Custom Hardware Solutions • Intelligent Stream Recorder (ISR) • Hybrid Video Recording (HVR)

PDS optimized video hardware solutions, combined with our deep technical and logistical expertise, can simplify your next deployment and increase your ROI.

PDS Vision Hardware

PDS manufactures a full-line of video optimized hardware solutions designed to make your VMS deployment smooth and painless. Learn how the PDS configuration team can apply its technical and logistical expertise to increase the ROI of your next deployment.

PDS Intelligent Stream Recorder (ISR) Software

Need to empower users to create and manage video events? The ISR takes the pain and confusion out of capturing events such as interviews, training sessions, lectures, meetings and examinations. This easy-to-use software gives users the ability to quickly launch recordings, descriptively catalog them, and retrieve them with a simple browser-based search engine, all without extensive administration or support.

PDS Hybrid Video Recording (HVR) Solution

A robust analog and IP video management system fully configured on PDS Vision Hardware. Let PDS help you take the guess work out of IP and Mega Pixel deployment.

We strive to be the industry leader in product consistency with all our PDS products. We strongly believe that a key ingredient to reducing your TCO is taking consistency down to each and every component with our systems. We make your life easier by reducing the number of component level changes that wreak havoc on your configurations, specialty apps, and overall support capabilities.

We achieve this product consistency with a combination of strategies:

- Work closely with our clients to understand specific needs unique to their environment and compute model.
- Partner with our suppliers to insure availability and accurate information
- Conduct regularly scheduled Technology Roadmap Meetings (TRMs) with our customers
- PDS provides 90-day advance notification of end of life products
